Telegrams.

(By Havas Agency)

London, Jan. 22nd.—The Bank minimum has been reduced to three and a half per cent.

Rome, Jan. 22nd—From official sources it is stated that Germany Austria and Italy are making arrangements to establish a uniform Customs' tariff between the three countries.

Rio, Jan. 22nd.—Ex-Minister B. Constans died this morning.

The Cabinet crisis still continues. Several lists of candidates in circulation but nothing definite arranged.

Montevideo, 22nd—The Almirante Condell has left her anchorage in the outer roads and entered the bay.

The working of the La Paz quarries has been suspended: 900 men are thus thrown out of work.

£100,000 have been received from Rio for Government. The loan is supposed to be £300,000. The President has received important financial news from Rio. Nothing, however, has transpired.

The Apolo arrived this morning at 9 o'clock. She left this evening for Buenos Ayres.

FOREIGN GOLD.

"Backward, flow backward, Oh! Time in thy flight." Last year's bombastic decree, demonetizing foreign gold coins on March 1st 1891, was repealed yesterday. We must indeed compliment the Government on its sound good sense in repealing this measure, since, bad as the state of the market is, it would be ten times worse if the decree in question was allowed to come into force next March.

Gradually as we approached the Ides of March the uneasy feeling in the market became more accentuated, and evidently some of our banking brokers who have the run of the Government House told the Minister the dangers that threatened if the demonetization measure were not repealed.

The amusing feature of this business was that, according to the Government decree, all gold payments after 5th March, 1891, would have to be made in Argentinos, a gold coin which from one cause or other is the very scarcest in our market. It was in consequence of this that all gold discounts were stopped and all the banks holding gold deposits were most anxious to get rid of them; all gold "vencimientos" had to be collected; nothing could be renewed. The trust companies and other companies had their businesses checked and impeded, and the whole market was plunged into such a mess that no one could tell the sequel. Luckily, the good sense of the Minister has triumphed, and we now go back to our former status, and this timely repealing of the decree, it is thought, will greatly help the gold market.

If we might take the liberty of suggesting still further remedial measure to our financial Cato, we would suggest the rescinding of the Government decree which compels people to accept gold payments at an artificial exchange rate, which has been tried now for a few months in this market and found to be a mistake. There is no just reason why people entitled to receive cash gold should be obliged to accept a 4 months' bill of exchange rate, and in equity parties receiving gold at such rates should certainly be entitled to rebate the four months' interest. Most of the money and exchange brokers who frequent the Government House are well aware of the justice of our remarks, and they should call the Minister's attention to the abuse, in the hope of his reforming it.

Luckily for the gold market, this demonetization decree is now rescinded, and banks and others will be able to receive and pay out in sovereigns and other gold coins. The banks can now discount in gold as before, and they are freed from the necessity of making their customers pay up. To err is human. The decree in question, situated as our market is, was a grievous error which we now see, have the courage to admit, and the ability to correct. The 2 per cent tax on deposits is an equal error, and before many months are about we predict will also be repealed.

THE CHILIAN REVOLUTION.

Letters dated January 12th, that is 4 days after the outbreak of the revolution, have been received from Valparaiso. It is stated that the popular belief was that the fleet had risen in connivance with the army. The surprise was great when it was discovered that the army was faithful to Government, and the impression grew general that the cause of the revolution was lost. However, fifteen days have now elapsed since the outbreak of the revolution and no news of the triumph of the Government has yet been received. On the contrary, the news received points to the advance of the revolutionists.

It appears that General Baquedano, who distinguished himself about two months ago by his hostility to the President, has taken no part in the revolution, and has not been molested by the authorities.

People are quiet in Valparaiso, and but for the increased number of policemen and the fortification of a few public buildings, there is nothing to denote anything unusual. The letter, from which we have taken the foregoing information, is evidently from a friend of President Balmaceda, for we note that the writer gives a very one-sided view of the revolution. He states that the rising of the fleet was not countenanced by the higher officers, and that President Balmaceda is not the man to resign in consequence of a petty mutiny. There is one thing quite evident, and that is that the people in Valparaiso know very little of what is going on, if we may judge from this lengthy letter published by one of our contemporaries. There is not a word about the plans or the whereabouts of the revolutionists, nor about the movements in the north, which from the outset was practically in the hands of the revolutionists. The fact is there are no newspapers in Valparaiso, the opposition journals having been suppressed and the official journals merely publishing the decrees of the Government.

In regard to the Almirante Condell, the new Chilian warship whose arrival at Montevideo from Europe we announced two days ago, it was stated yesterday that the commander, in disobedience of the orders of the legation, had left for the Pacific. Telegrams, however, received last evening state that the Almirante Condell has left its anchorage in the outer roads and entered the harbor. She is a swift cruiser, carrying 12 guns, including 4 large ones, and running 20 knots an hour.

A vessel with a consignment of 30,000 rifles for the Chilian Government is expected to arrive in Montevideo in a few days from Europe. It was reported yesterday that President Herrera would not allow the consignment to be landed in Montevideo. This, however, is a mere report, and it is quite certain the Uruguayan Government will carefully avoid all occasion of meddling in Chilian matters.

CONGRESS.

SITTING OF THE SENATE.

THE LOAN BILL.

The Senate, summoned to sit at 9 a.m., did not meet yesterday till a few minutes before eleven. The Minister of Finance was present to defend the Loan Bill, which was the Order of the Day. Senator Galvez, as informing member, reported on the Bill, and, put to the vote, the Loan was sanctioned in general. The only dissentient vote was that of Senator Rocha, who attacked the Bill. The honorable member argued that the service on the foreign debt amounted to 14 million gold dollars per annum, say 42 millions for the three years: he failed to see the expediency of making a loan of 75 millions, an amount enormously in excess of the requirements of the Treasury. Senator Galvez easily answered all these arguments with a detailed account of all the obligations of the Government, including the repeal of the City Improvement Work lease and the service on provincial foreign loans. Furthermore, he argued, the Government was wise in providing for eventualities. The Minister of Finance then said that no loan was in debate: it was a "moratorio" or suspension of payments that had to be faced. Senator Cortes supported the Bill. The Bill was then sanctioned.

EXIT MRS. PIERCEY.

LATEST DETAILS.

(From our own Correspondent)

Dec. 27th.

"The sentence was just, but much of the evidence against me was wrong" is the short and dying confession of Mrs Piercey, who was hanged at 8 a.m. on the 23rd inst. No one but the authorities, not even the newspaper reporters, was present at the execution. From the result of the subsequent inquest the process of strangulation or, more accurately, breakage of the spinal chord, seems to have been satisfactory. A new mechanism of bolts and pulleys, which is so far automatic that as little as possible is left to the skill of the hangman, was made use of for the first time, and from the slight vibrations of the rope after the victim dropped it is assumed that in this instance death was almost instantaneous and that the new killing machine worked well. About the date of the execution the weather in London can, in allowable language, be best described as "dantesque." The sun in these days we do not speak of. What stands in the place of the sky has been more than usually veiled. The streets are slushy in spite of continued frost, and at times we are at midday in utter darkness. Outside the environs of the metropolis snow covers the land, and at night the thermometer registers something below zero. The particular morning upon which the young woman, who has occupied much of our thoughts and for so long, was judicially removed to another sphere, and her mortal remains destroyed in quicklime, was what London reporters call "clear." They could see the grim prison walls, and, after hours of waiting in the raw, humid air, the morbidly inclined could be gratified by descrying the hoisting of the phantasmal black flag. It was an orderly and even serious crowd they say. Street urchins there were, and some ruffianly figures jostled with the top-hatted and kid-gloved among the spectators; but there was none of the old rowdyism. There was no groaning, no levity, no blaspheming. As the prison bell tolled the shifting mass of gapers pressed together and remained still and silent. When the expected signal rose and said "it is done," the crowd separated sorrowfully with many sympathising expressions, such as: "Poor Mrs Piercey," "poor girl," "how sad," "what a—shame." The young woman, since her condemnation and sentence for one of the most hideously attended crimes on record, had managed to captivate up to the hour of her death parsons, lawyers, prison officers and all who came in contact with her. This is the more strange as she was reticent and reserved. Her appearance was delicate and refined, with the fresh remains—she was only 24—of positive beauty. Her manners were ladylike and engaging, and her voice so sympathetic that it touched the heart at once. A dying revelation that she made would if true account for the superiority of her manners to what we knew of her recent life and low origin. It became whispered about that she had requested her lawyer to put as an advertisement in the Madrid papers these words "not betrayed"—to which certain initials were attached. At first people jumped to the conclusion that the words implicated Frank Hogg or some other accomplice, according to a widely entertained theory confirmed by the summing up of the case by Mr. Justice Denman. But Hogg had not fled to Spain. He is in London; and one of the most pathetic incidents in the girl's last hours was her intense disappointment proved by her convulsive sobs when the hour appointed by the prison officials for an interview between her and that man passed over, and he came not. The advertisement, according to her express statement to her lawyer, had no reference to the murder. She says that when scarcely seventeen she was privately married to a gentleman in his own apartments, in Piccadilly, by special license. This statement on the day before her execution was repeated in Newgate Gaol in presence of her lawyer, Mr. Frank Palmer, and the prison chaplain, Mr. Duffield. She added that the gentleman deserted her but maintained her, she taking a solemn oath not to reveal his name. She was very anxious that these facts should appear in the London papers on the following morning. The full advertisement, which runs thus; "M.E.C.P. Last wish of all. M.E.W. Have not betrayed"—with the explanation given, did appear in the London papers, and no doubt contributed to the sympathy that arose for the condemned and already dead woman, although the full meaning of the words is still a mystery. The low and earnest tones in which Mrs Piercey made the final communication to Mr Palmer seems to have impressed that gentleman with the truth of the revelation. She had made a similar statement previously, and a most exhaustive search amongst the parish registers of St. James' Piccadily was instituted, but, alas!, without anything being found confirming the story.

The woman was an enigma when living, and has gone to her dismal resting place an enigma which notaries and parish clerks may perhaps partially solve, but its solution is more within the province of the moralist. With many superior mental endowments Mrs Piercey seems to have possessed a large development of what phrenologists call "secretiveness," a faculty of the highest value to the diplomatist and man of business and often over-developed in criminals, and easily and morbidly excited in lunatics. It is also one of the special endowments of actors and mimics. To cut my philosophy short, Mrs. Piercey appeared to be all these things. A sympathetic voice may be an hereditary index of a noble disposition, or, if physical qualities permit, it may be acquired gradually in the practice of arts of deception. All who have been eased of cash by friends can remember the agreeable voice of some "genial Jack." Yet those who have ears to hear will detect the true ring from the false. The tone of voice must ever remain a more or less true indication of character. The Newgate male officials have been unable to acoustically analyse a voice that with all its fascination contained the soft note of a rumbling and ghastly perambulator. Among the trifling bequests made by the culprit were a ring to her mother and a Testament to her sister.

London, Dec. 27th.

The Archbishop of York is dead and will be interred on the 30th.

On the Stock Exchange there is very little animation, owing to the holidays and the settlement. Consols steady, but nothing doing in South Americans which had fallen during the week. Large amounts of gold had been received by the Bank of England from Brazil and Australia.

The death of Dr. Schliemann, the eminent archæologist, is announced from Athens.

Commissioner Smith, the life and soul of the Salvation Army, who is believed to have inspired "In Darkest England" and to have written the greater part of it, has seceded from the Army. The Press assert this to be the greatest blow that could possibly have fallen upon General Booth and his followers.

LONDON LETTER.

THE KILKENNY CONTEST.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Dec. 19.

On December 16th we left Mr. Parnell sneaking out into the dark at a roadside railway station near Kilkenny. He turned up soon enough at Ballinakill, a little market town close to that place. There was a lively meeting of the anti-Parnellites going on at Ballinakill. Mr. Davitt was there in full force, adding the emphasis of tongue and lung and fist to the unsparing abuse of his old chief which appears weekly in type in the Labour World. The "Nationalists," as the anti-Parnellites like to call themselves, were outnumbered at first by the Parnellites, and it soon became evident there was going to be a free fight, as during Mr. Davitt's speech the Parnellite party, who had just been addressed by their chief, came up hooting and cheering and brandishing their sticks. Threats and curses and violent clamour drowned the voice of Davitt. Father O'Halloran, who stood on the car beside Mr. Davitt, called out to those near him, "We can't help it; we must drive them back; they began it." And in the twinkling of an eye, says a correspondent of the Daily News, the plucky priest bounded off the car, flourishing his cudgel and elbowing his way with surprising rapidity through the dense mass. Mr. Davitt, with his whitethorn in his left hand, pressed ahead of him. Dr. Tanner with his blackthorn forced his way alongside of them, and in a few moments was in the thick of the scrimmage. Then followed the shrill whoops of war and the clashing of sticks. There was little blood spilled. The chief sufferer was Mr. Davitt, who got a nasty crack on the crown; but the way this true son of the Irish peasantry handled his thorn has endeared him to the hearts even of his enemies. He was avenged by Dr. Tanner, who got his blackthorn well on Davitt's assailant's head. After the retreat of the Parnellites the Nationalists re-formed to hear Davitt, but they were again interrupted by the rival crowd who had caught up Father Ryan who was sitting in front of Parnell's car, and were carrying him towards the Nationalists. Davitt was out in a moment with his whitethorn, and managed to catch one of Father Ryan's bearers a whack on the arm, resulting in the disappearance of the reverend gentleman just as he had commenced "My friends." The repulse of the Parnellites was then complete. Meanwhile Mr. Parnell had gone away unobserved to Castlecomer. The Nationalists, headed by Father O'Halloran were in an instant in their seats —on the cars—in pursuit of the sinner, and when they got there they found him at dinner. The correspondent observes that Mr. Parnell has forgotten his promise not to resort to personalities. "Gutter sparrows like Dr. Tanner" he exclaimed contemptuously. "Hounds like Davitt," and in allusion to Pope Hennessy as an obscure placeman at Hong Kong, he cried "to——with Hong Kong." In spite of this eloquence the Castlecomer crowd grew more and more hostile. "When," says the correspondent, "it grew too dark to distinguish the faces, I left. Afterwards I heard hooting and yelling, and in half an hour more Mr. Parnell's car, filled with his followers, himself among them, came rushing down the street at a wild gallop, while the yelling, cursing crowd pursued it, pelting it with mud and gravel. You must know that when this scene occurred poor Mr. Parnell was in great suffering. He had, in a cowardly and brutal manner, been struck in the eye with some say mud and gravel but more likely with a prepared bag of lime. The Press Association gives an impartial account of the attendant circumstances. The Davitt crowd at Castlecomer invaded the Parnellite meeting just as the Nationalists had been interrupted at Ballinakill. During the disturbance a couple of bags of lime were thrown, one of which covered Mr. Harrington's shoulder and hat, and another struck Mr. Parnell in the face, for the time completely blinding him. On his way to Kilkenny his eyes became so painful he was obliged to stop and enter a labourer's cabin where, almost fainting, he was treated by Dr. Hackett who managed with hot water to get some of the lime out of his eyes and relieve the pain. At midnight Mr. Parnell with his face bandaged addressed a large meeting from the windows of the Victoria Hotel, Kilkenny. There was much sympathy expressed for him and there were loud cries of vengeance among the crowd. He has since been speaking at Cork, and it is hoped that no serious injury will result to his eyesight. I should add that Canon Crody writes to the Freeman's Journal denying that lime bags or lime was thrown. Mr. Davitt's Labour World says very plainly that Mr. Parnell is insane. In a certain sense, most people think so too. That is, they see that the life mania of the Irish leader, has come out in an acute form under recent excitement.

Twenty three Irish ladies had prepared an address to be presented to Mr. Parnell at Castlecomer. The presentation was prevented by the occurrences just related. The nature of the address may be gathered from one or two quotations—"Alas! that your hand should strike it"—unhappy Ireland—"yet another blow. One jewel stood out from its tear-gemmed crown, with a quenchless luminance—the purity of its daughters, the sacredness of its domestic relations." etc. There were two quotations from poetry in the address, and altogether it was rather rough on the Irish leader, who only yesterday said again that he fights and will continue to fight for the claim of Ireland to make its own laws in College Green. So far, good; but there is a way of fighting and a way of making laws, and the Kilkenny business, which we all hope will on the 22nd inst. settle affairs in some fashion, is already dubbed by English coercionists as a Kilkenny cat business, and a "rehearsal of Home Rule." England, the English Government and its "mininos," the Irish constabulary, remain expectant, quiescent and exemplarily impartial. The Irish police at Castlecomer only intervened to stay bloodshed.

THE LONDON PRESS AND THE 2 o/o TAX.

FRESH ARGENTINE BLUNDERING.

(From the Statist, Dec. 27th.)

The new Argentine Government is rapidly destroying what little confidence there was in its capacity and integrity. We commented a short time ago on its folly in suppressing the quotation of gold and closing the Bourse. And now we have a proposal far worse, because it is fraught with even graver consequences. In a message to Congress the President proposed that a tax of 2 per cent. be imposed upon all deposits, whether in gold or currency, in the private banks; that is to say, in the foreign banks doing business in the Argentine Republic. It may be urged that the foreign banks ought to contribute to the revenue of the country, but the reply to that is that the proposal is not made on the ground that the foreign banks do not contribute their fair share to the support of the Government. The President expressly justifies the measure as intended to force deposits out of the foreign banks into the native banks. This is plain from his Message, where we read, "this tax is due to the necessity and expediency that there is in procuring that those deposits representing home capital shall be concentrated in the National Bank and in the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres." And a little lower down the President goes on to say, "It is indispensable that we should raise from their prostration these local institutions (State banks), return to them the credit which they ought to enjoy in order to cheapen discounts and make them easy, and circulate among the pastoral, agricultural and industrial interests of our country the enormous mass of fiduciary currency and gold coin retained up to the present time in the private banks." But, furthermore, we learn from the Buenos Aires papers that an attack upon the private banks has been in contemplation for some time. Foolishly, both the President and the Finance Minister attributed, in interviews with the press, not a little of the evils from which the country was suffering to the action of these banks. Thus the President says in an interview, published on the 17th of last month:—"The private banks could, if they wished, lend great assistance. They are so glutted with money that they are obliged to lower the rate of interest. Meantime, these banks lock their vaults and refuse to lend to anybody. These banks cater to the unhealthy speculation, and for the sake of a gain of a hundred thousand or more dollars they inflict upon the country losses of millions. They paralyse economic life, they aggravate the crisis and injure the working classes." It ought to be clear, even to an Argentine politician, that credit cannot be restored either by an executive decree or by a legislative enactment. The National Bank, the Provincial Bank of Buenos Aires, and the other note-issuing banks have lost credit, because it has now been made manifest to all the world that they were grossly, corruptly, and dishonestly mismanaged. They were exploited, in fact, by corrupt rings for their own base purpose, and have been brought thereby to bankruptcy. One of the first acts of the present Government was to go to Congress for power to issue fresh paper money on the express ground that the National Bank, the National Mortgage Bank, and the Buenos Ayres Municipality could not meet their engagements unless the State supplied them with currency. It being thus made clear by the Government itself that the banks were insolvent, it was a natural consequence that depositors should transfer their money to other institutions in which they have more confidence. The Argentine banks have broken down through gross mismanagement, but foreign banks doing business in the Republic have retained their credit because their management has been good. And it ought surely to be evident even to panic-stricken politicians that the destroyed credit of the one cannot be built up again by mere legislative action any more than the credit of the other can be so destroyed.

But the futility of the measure is the least objection to it. We are informed upon excellent authority that the foreign banks are at present only allowing 2 per cent upon deposits. Now it stands to reason that the foreign banks will not themselves pay the proposed tax, assuming that it is sanctioned by Congress and enforced; in other words, if the tax is paid, it will have to be paid by the depositors, and therefore the depositors will receive no interest or very little. The probable consequence of that will be general withdrawal of deposits. A few wishing to maintain credit with the banks, or thinking the money more safe in their custody, may leave the deposits untouched, but the majority are likely to withdraw the deposits if they get no interest on them. They are, however, extremely unlikely to trust them either to the National or the Provincial Bank, or the State banks, for the reason already pointed out, that all these have become utterly discredited. The first result then would be a hoarding of the money now deposited with the banks, and therefore its withdrawal from the service of trade and industry. The second and more serious result would probably be the calling in of loans by the banks to enable them to pay the deposits. If there is a run upon the banks it is evident that they must call in all the loans which are callable, and they must allow their discounts to run off to meet the run. In two ways, then, the agricultural and the commercial community will be seriously injured if this tax is enforced; firstly by the withdrawal of the deposits and the hoarding of the money; and secondly, by the calling in of loans and the running off of discounts which are now accommodating the business community. It seems incredible that the Government will persist in a course likely to have such grave consequences. No doubt strong remonstrances have been addressed to it by the great financial houses in Europe, and doubtless also public opinion at home will make itself felt. Indeed, a telegram in the Times of Monday states that already political anxiety had sprung up because of the proposal. But if the Government does proceed a crisis worse than any yet experienced will be precipitated, and the efforts made to restore in some measure European confidence in the Argentine Republic will be defeated. Another crisis, however, brought on by the suicidal policy of the Government would only too probably provoke political disturbance. As we have more than once already told our readers, there has been for some time much discontent with the Government. Gen. Roca, in particular, is very obnoxious to the Union Civica. President Pellegrini, too, has lost caste by giving fresh guarantees, and now Sr Lopez has proved himself incompetent. The Government, therefore, would be ill-qualified to face another rising. But in the interview already referred to, the President, speaking of a gold premium of 200 per cent, said:—"Life is impossible with gold at such a premium; the Government cannot be carried on; the people, rendered desperate, may rise to secure food, and no power can resist or restrain them. The worst danger ahead is social revolution." And, again, referring to the same danger, he said: "The crisis abyss may open under us at any moment, if all do not join to settle this Presidential question. But the Union Civica must join instead of fomenting political agitation. If the crisis gets worse, and we cannot get help abroad, and your Civicos refuse to join in settling the matter, I will resign before the month is out......We are in great danger of disappearing as a civilized nation, and falling back to be merely South American."

On the other hand, if the Government gives way it will utterly discredit itself, it will prove its own incapacity, will show at the same time that it can be frightened into renouncing its policy. Worse still, it will lay itself open to the charge that it has knuckled under to the foreign banks. Had it left the matter alone there would be no such charge made, but when once it has proposed to tax the banks, if it were to withdraw the proposal it gives an opportunity to its opponents to accuse it of being under the influence of the foreign banks in the Republic. Whatever, therefore, may be the outcome of the proposal it has made, the situation in the Argentine Republic infinitely worse than it was before. It has damaged the Government beyond repair; it has increased the political discontent; it has alarmed the business community, and it has reminded the European public that at any moment we may have a fresh revolution in Buenos Ayres. Such being the state of the case, it seems clear that the crisis through which the Republic is passing must be intensified, that the discredit must be greatly augmented, and that the premium on gold must rise.

And how serious the state of things already had been appears from an interview with the Finance Minister, printed a few days earlier than that granted by the President. "I am convinced," the Finance Minister says, "that everything must fall to its proper level—stocks, real estate, merchandise, everything. House rents, for instance, must obey the laws that govern them. They are falling, but they must continue to fall." In another place he observes, "It has been said that I have interfered with the provinces in order to right their banks. That is a mistake. But since the governors have resisted intervention as a violation of provincial autonomy, I will not push the matter further. I will leave the banks to their fate, and I will withdraw all interference that the old robbery system may continue. But I know those banks, being bankrupt, must surrender." The National Government will not pay the service on the provincial debts. This, of course, is the natural result of the withdrawal of the intervention of the National Government in the provincial banks."

Meantime, the danger of an acknowledged default grows greater and greater. The Argentine Government has neither accepted the London Committee's proposal, nor put forward any of its own, and it has not itself, and it cannot borrow, the means of paying the interest on its debts. Therefore, the probability of a default is exceedingly great. And, if that occur, there is no saying what may follow.

Railway Items.

Mr. Michael Fay, representing the Accountancy of the N. R. Board, has reported on Messrs. M. Pennano and T. Agostini's proposal to lease the Tucuman, Jujuy, Salta, Extension of the Central Northern. Mr. Fay states that, in his opinion, the proposal should not be entertained by Government. Private companies should not be entrusted with the working of state lines, for the following reasons:—

1.—Private companies look after their own rather than the public interests. (This is rather a rash statement, for the best way for a company to look after its own interests is to look after the interests of the public.)

2—That the lessees not owning the rolling-stock, the latter deteriorates.

3.—That as the line is a new one and passes through territory not yet well settled on, it is the duty of Government to work it with a view to foment and protect industry, and not to entrust it to a company, who would naturally endeavour to make money out of it.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The weather was the only nice thing in town yesterday——the ladies, of course, excepted. The gold eagle was again in a surly mood: what news there was could not be considered roseate, and something fresh from London was anxiously looked for.

There was another editorial duel yesterday morning, between two of our Italian confreres, one of whom was slightly wounded. This "field of honour" business will end unpleasantly some day.

Some distinguished Brazilians who have just arrived from Rio say that President Herrera's hope of getting a loan in the Brazilian capital is all but a dream at the best. Brazilian capitalists are no fools.

The Artillery were at ball practice at Palermo before dawn yesterday, and the sound of the guns made timid people feel squeamish until they found out the state of the case. Since July last the civilian population have acquired a strong antipathy to the smell of gunpowder.

Another dance and concert at the Tigre Hotel last night. In spite of the crisis Joy seems unconfined in that charming suburb.

There is a revulsion of feeling amongst the medical fraternity about the Koch lymph. Most of them now look on it askance.

We have again to thank the Red Star Agency, of Plaza Victoria, for late English papers received per steamship Magellan.

The London correspondent of the Sheffield Independent tells the following story of Her Majesty the Queen:—"A lady who last season for the first time made her appearance in certain London drawing-rooms, and established great success as a ballad singer, was last August "commanded" to accompany some neighbours of the Queen on a visit to Balmoral. She sang several Scotch ballads, which greatly pleased the Queen. Then she sang "The wearing of the green," and as the words and air of that beautiful song rose and fell every one noticed with wonder that Her Majesty was weeping. What this may portend I do not know. I tell the story as it was told me by one of the guests at Balmoral during the Queen's autumn stay."

The latest news from learned Cordoba is racy of the times. The Libertad of that city says that the famous Bonos Agricolas are absolutely being forced on the people as good money, and any unfortunate wight who refuses to receive them from one of the elect is arrested by the police!! Can such things be, even in Cordoba?

We have to thank Mr. Thaddeus Piza for sending us a copy of the "Cyclopaedia of the Manufactures and Products of the United States," a work full of the most valuable and interesting statistics, which we recommend to merchants.

A Paris paper is responsible for the statement that Baron Gustave Rothschild recently lost 80 million francs at play, and has gone to Algeria to economise. If the Rothschilds are taking to card-playing the world must be near its end.

The Director of the North American Normal School calls attention to the notice which we gave in yesterday's issue of the STANDARD, in which we congratulated the School on securing "the best known and most efficient of the Directoras in the Argentene Republic to succeed Miss Morrow, the former Directora, etc," and wishes us to state that this must have been a stronger expression than was intended, as neither the Directora referred to nor the management of the School would like to make any claim of the kind. It may be affirmed, however,—and very properly —that the new Directora is one of the most widely known and competent of the many well-known and very competent Directoras in the Republic.

In Rosario they are so pleased with Cato's Bills (the only place in the whole country that is pleased with them) that they are doing more business and are looking for a fall in gold before Carnival. The opening of an extraordinary number of low "cafetines" is another queer sign of the times in ancient Rosario. Still another is the startling announcement that there are four millions of forged Santa Fe Treasury notes in circulation. Who the forgers are is not yet known.

The Lord Mayor's Budget is being subjected to sharp criticism. In spite of his professed desire to retrench, he has not cut down his own salary, has greatly increased that of the Secretary, and has cut down the salaries of the subordinates, even of the poor porters. It is the eternal old tune—beginning at the wrong end, and ending there also.

Mr. Maurice Buckland, the well-known estanciero in the Far South, who is at present in England, writes to us as follows from Barnstaple, where he has just made a trial of a new kind of brake patented by him—. "I gave the carriage a trial trip the other day, in order to test the brake I have just patented. One of our bankers and the Chief of Police came with me and expressed themselves very much pleased with the easy motion of the carriage and my way of harnessing three horses. There was a crowd at Barnstaple to see us start. My patent brake worked beautifully, and I hope to make something out of it. It is such an entirely new departure in the way of a brake for a two-wheeler that builders hardly know what to make of it. The difficulty in a new thing is always to get it started, but I hope ere long to see my patent in use throughout England."

A big deficit in a public department in Montevideo is announced. The delinquent must be somebody of consequence, as it is stated that several "altos personages" have clubbed to pay up the amount. This is a racy-of-the-soil way of settling such an ugly business.

A rowing match between a boat's crew from H. M. S. Cleopatra and one from the U.S. ship Tallapoosa has been arranged at Montevideo. Now then! Who'll win? John or Jonathan?

The new Brazilian Congress has done the right thing in voting a pension to venerable Dom Pedro, as a "deserving servant of his country for fifty years." Perhaps the old gentleman will stand on his dignity and refuse it. Not if his Orleanist son-in-law can help it.

Good sign. The Carnival Commissioners were to have met on Wednesday, but didn't. Let them stick to that. Carnival under present circumstances is impossible. There is a rumour going round that water-throwing will be allowed; but we feel certain the Chief of Police would not dream of permitting it.

The inhabitants of the mushroom capital of Buenos Ayres province are in for an unhappy new year. The new Municipality there proposes to increase last year's taxes by 40 per cent and to clap on a lot of fresh ones. All our public bodies are simply taxation mad.

We find the following curious paragraph about the O'Shea case in a London paper: "A statement has been made that £20,000 were offered to keep the O'Shea case out of court. Although this statement is incorrect it is not, says the London correspondent of the Birmingham Gazette, without foundation. What really happened was as follows: When the Times consented to a verdict of £5000 in Mr. Parnell's action, based on the publication of forged letters, an intimation was made that if the Times could arrange to have the O'Shea case withdrawn the damages need not be paid. The answer of the Times was that not for £20,000 would it attempt such a thing. I am not able to say whether the offer was genuine, or whether it was merely one of the numerous attempts that have been made to drag the Times into the O'Shea case with a view of raising the cry of conspiracy to ruin Mr. Parnell."

The news from Chile by post shows that the people are taking the revolution easily: they show little interest in it, and attend to their daily business pretty much as usual. The foreign population think more of it than the sons of the soil, as it may play Old Harry with the foreign trade, if it lasts much longer.

In diplomatic circles it is considered probable that the popular Baron Alencar will return here as Brazilian Minister, as the present distinguished incumbent, Dr. Brazil, has been named Minister of Agriculture in the new Cabinet at Rio. The Baron's host of friends will be glad to welcome him back to his old post.

There is not much use in pestering President Herrera with letters by post. On Wednesday H. E. tossed several hundred letters, unopened, into a big fire, especially lighted for their cremation.

The very latest jocular news about the Riachuelo Works is that one of the dredges was working away for six weeks, at a cost of forty thousand dollars, when it was suddenly discovered that she was tearing up the bed of the river, far away from the Boca channel, which she was supposed to be dredging! This is almost as bad as trying to dredge hard rock.

Oh! The crisis is now coming home to society in earnest, and to the girls in particular. The returns of the Civil Registry this month so far show a falling off of one half in the number of marriages in this city, as compared with January last year.

HURLINGHAM RACES.

Dear STANDARD,

With reference to "Sportsman's inquiry in to-day's paper whether it is customary for a handicapper to take part in any race in which the weights have been allotted by himself, I notice that the Badminton volume on Racing refers to the handicapper as follows:—

"He should be a constant attendant on race courses, and during the progress of each race should note, towards the finish, not so much the doings of the first three horses—for of these the newspapers will give him sufficiently accurate information—but what the other runners are about, what could have been close up, and what never took any part at all, etc."

It follows from the foregoing, that if the handicapper took part in a race and arrived at the post one of the first three, he would scarcely be in a position to see what the remaining horses were doing.

Yours truly,
X Y Z.

Buenos Aires,
Jan. 22nd, 1891.

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

May I ask you to insert these few lines in answer to "Sportsman's" letter in your issue of to-day's date.

The weights for the 'Premio Carnaval' to be run at Hurlingham on the 2nd prox. were presented to, and approved by the Racing Committee (of course before publication) and were not, as "Sportsman" in a most unsportsmanlike manner insinuates, apportioned to suit any one stable or individual.

"Sportsman" would appear to know little or nothing about handicapping. I will therefore not occupy space by referring to his argument as to the weight carried by Urraca on the 9th September last, but I would ask him his opinion of the last pony handicap run at Hurlingham, when a sheet would have covered the first five ponies at the finish, representing top, bottom and middle weights. Where was the favouritism there?

"Sportsman" is wrong in giving the names of those who will be excluded from the race by the weights, some of these gentleman being able to ride several kilos under 70; and have they all been asked to ride, or only one, and he by "Sportsman," and therefore by raising the weights all round would not Handicapper be favoring one stable and one individual at the expense of many? Does "Sportsman" advocate the lowest weight in a handicap being 70 kilos, if so, has he calculated what top weight might be? Is it fair to ask the light weight always to make up weight by carrying kilos and kilos of lead, when by a little self denial many of the heavy weights could considerably reduce themselves.

The question of his riding in a race the weights in which have been made by himself, Handicapper has left to the Racing Committee, and would advise "Sportsman" to do likewise.

Apologizing for the length of my remarks,

Faithfully yours
Handicapper.

LAND LAWS IN PARAGUAY.

B. Ayres, Jan. 22nd 1891.

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

Having read the interesting letter of "Guarani," in your issue of to-day, I, and doubtless many others, shall be glad of any practical information shewing new colonists may proceed to this apparently favoured country. Will he kindly say to what (if any) contractor, or other person, one should apply now?

I would gladly shake the dust of this impecunious city from my boots forthwith.

Yours respectfully,
A disgusted Managing Clerk.

THE DIPPING SEASON.

Under the above heading, the following appears in a recent exchange:—

"Speaking of Dips themselves, perhaps the most significant feature in their "History is the way that the Old fashioned have been superseded by the more "Modern and Scientific preparations. As Tobacco gave place to the various "Fluids" "and these again to the "Powders" so we find to-day these latter retiring before the "new Paste Dips. Of the many recent experiments we have witnessed in England and "the Colonies, the most successful were with an Arsenical Paste, manufactured by "Tomlinson and Hayward, of Lincoln, a firm that has always been noted for keeping "abreast of the times."

"The advantages of the Paste over the "Powders" are many:—

"It does not make the wool dry and harsh, but leaves it soft and silky, giving a "healthy sweet smell to the sheep. Being, so to speak, already mixed, it is easier to "prepare there, being no waste nor loose "Powders," to fly about.

"As it is prepared with Carbolic it is lighter than the "Powders" and does not "so readily settle to the bottom, and for the same reason it is not injurious to the "hands. It goes in less space and is a more concentrated form than the "Powders," "thus effecting an economy in transport and labour. It costs less, and will mix with "any kind of water. In a word, it is the "Powders," cleared of their many inherent "defects, with their curative properties and good qualities preserved and increased. "Until the manufacturers make some better discovery

EXCHANGE RATES—

England	15½d.

Gold equivalent	307.00

Thursday, January 22nd.

Business was very dull on 'Change to-day, and there was a limp feeling about everything except gold, which kept rising steadily all day and now looks as firm as it did weak a short while ago. Nobody could account satisfactorily for this sudden change, but it was rumoured that the news from London was rather bad, especially as regards the Cedula conversion scheme, which seems to have fewer friends every day and looks like dying a natural death. Naturally, this meaning a serious pull-up, affect the whole market. Everybody asks will the bank be able to pull along and pay the coupons, or what will be the upshot, so that there is great anxiety and no small apprehension as to the exact tenor of the tidings. Gold opened to-day at 310, rose to 314, steadied then for a time, and afterwards continuing to 316 closed with sellers at this rate. In exchange little or nothing was done, the rates declining to 48½d, 5.06.08 francs, whilst stocks all round were much duller. It was said that there was a large delivery of Catalinas, which no doubt depressed the quotations. We heard of sterling offered to-day house upon house at high rates and no takers.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

The Pacific packet Magellan, which arrived yesterday in Montevideo, brought £100,000 to the English Bank from Rio Janeiro. It is thought that this consignment is connected with the loan said to have been effected by the Government with Brazilian bankers.

We have received an interesting communication on the "Classification of Grain" which we are reluctantly compelled to hold over on account of great pressure on our space.

The explanation of the Mortgage Bank having lent nearly 3/4 of a million dollars on a small camp property made its appearance, and although the business is not quite so bad as was at first supposed, it is quite evident that business in the bank is conducted on very loose and lax rules, which, we are glad to see, will be effectually corrected by the president, Mr. Toso. The particulars of the case are as follows: On December 29th last Mr J. Jofre purchased at auction from the Provincial Mortgage Bank a chacra in Quilmes containing 300 squares for 50,000 dollars. The property was set up at an upset price of $29,130 or say with a lien of $28,000 in series I and E with corresponding interest in favour of the bank. When, however, the title deeds were being prepared it was found that the property was also affected to the extent of 4,500 dols. Serie K, 250,000 Serie N. and 330,000 Series A gold. Further investigation then brought to light that the first owner and mortgagor sold the property to a neighbour who, having formed a centro agricola of 2,000 squares including the 300 squares in question, applied to the Mortgage Bank for Cedulas on the lot, securing the grants of the K, N and A gold series. Thus it was that the 300 squares appeared by mistake subject to the total grant, as from the above it can be clearly seen that the lien only consists of the original grant in I and E and a part of K, N and A gold.

A circular was handed round to-day announcing the formation of a Millers' Fire Insurance Company to accept risks on all the mills in the Republic. A large number of the leading millers have already implied their desire to take shares in the concern, which should prove a profitable one.

Two more brokers have disappeared from the arena. Messrs. J. Gagliardo and Angel Vega have requested the Camara Sindical to remove their names from the brokers' roll.

Mr. Jaime Cibils, well-known capitalist and saladerista, who has arrived from his princely property in Matto Grosso, was welcomed to-day by a large circle of friends. He leaves shortly for his property in Salto, where the saladeros will soon start slaughtering.

Protesting Cedula holders are advised that on Tuesday next, at 4 p.m., a meeting will be held in the National Theatre to receive the report of the Committee and resolve on the attitude to be adopted. It was rumoured in the Bolsa to-day that the Conversion scheme had fallen through, owing to the opposition of holders.

The Camara Sindical of the Bolsa, at the meeting held yesterday, resolved to call the general meeting of members and shareholders for the 30th inst. to receive the usual annual report and elect officers for the current year.

According to late exchanges it is quite evident that the Cedula conversion scheme meets with much opposition even in London, where it was generally supposed it would be accepted greedily. The papers are full of counter schemes and proposed amendments, though it seems that Dr. Plaza's scheme meets with most acceptance. The Financial Times of Dec. 26th has a long article in which it is shewn that the Provincial Government makes nothing out of the conversion, the gain, if there is any, being for the holders.

Telegrams received to-day from London announce the Bank of England rate down to 3½ o/o, and the market rate to 2 o/o. The previous rates were 4 and 2½ o/o respectively.

On Monday the Board of the Provincial Bank will meet to fix the sums to be discounted in this city during the current month.

Rosario advices report a tremendous hubbub over the Treasury bills, as not only are they at a heavy discount, but forged notes are now in circulation, which will increase the reluctance of the public to receive this much-depreciated paper any longer.

The much talked of lawsuit about the Duraňona business has at last been commenced, and unless the matter is allowed to stagnate in the Law Courts, which would be a pity, the market will soon be in possession of the details. The latter will be interesting, if not astounding. Dr. Drago has opened fire in a very able document, which was published to-day.

The barque Roseniens cleared from Rosario yesterday with 279,500 kilos of hair, 8300 kilos bones and 8880 goatskins, making a total of 880 bales. The Bremen packet took 10,000 bags of wheat from the colonies, and all purchased at over 8.50 m/n per 100 kilos.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks during the second ring:—

The drawing rates of the English Bank of Rio de Janiero, Limited, for to-day (22nd inst.) were:—

London, 15½d.
Paris, 1.60 fcs.
Germany, 1.28½ marks
Italy, 1.63 lira

Don Juan Lanus bought at auction for 131,900 dollars m/n the fine house, Calle Belgrano 1016 to 1022 and 1026 to 1032, belonging to the "testamentaria" of Doña Ana Lezica de Lastra.

The returns of the Custom House to-day were:—

Gold $15.60
Paper 175,285.64

Total receipts of month up to date $3,414,548.37.

At a Cabinet Council held this afternoon it was resolved to levy an additional 10 o/o on wharfage dues to pay for cleansing service in the Docks, Darsena and Riachuelo. The Minister has fixed the gold rate in the Customs at 310 up to Monday evening.

Mr. J. Rider has laid before the E.P. the statutes of the Brunswick Restaurant, with a capital of 100,000 dols., for approval.

Nothing could be more encouraging than to watch the high independent tone of our colleague La Epoca in its financial propaganda against the measures of the Finance Minister. The whole market welcomes our new colleague and applauds its independent spirit. This new paper is edited by Mr. Varangot, already very favourably known in journalism: its commercial section is entrusted to the experienced hands of Mr. Lix Klett. Our colleague defends the banks, the public, and their earnings, against the taxation of the Government and the war-to-the-knife policy of Minister Lopez.

Montevidean advices announce the promulgation of the law imposing the following specific duties on imported flour, maize, wheat, etc.:—

	Per 100 kilos
Maize	$0.80
Wheat...	1.35
Wheat flour	2.70
Clover and forage ...	1.00

This is a pleasant look out for the working classes, who under the guise of protection will now see prime necessaries become luxuries, since with any failure in the crops prices must rise apace, whilst at the same time, through lack of competition, the farmers and grain merchants will be able to "rig" the market as they please. The law has also been promulgated allowing the payment of fiscal duties and taxes either in gold or in paper at the rate of its highest quotation on the Bolsa on the day of payment.

Messrs. Luis Godoy and Co. sold a piece of land in Calle Comercio, between 1a and 2a Catamarca, at 8 m¦n per vara; buyer P. Chalalit.

Sailings announced for this month:

24—Dom Pedro for Havre

The Montevideo Times of the 28th inst. says:—

"On Sunday last J. Maeso made the following sales: The property Orillas del Plata 213a to Sres. Biroio and DeAmbrosis for 8890 dols. The house corner of Lavalleja and Defensa to I. Estacion Pereira, 18th Sept. 1890

Messrs, Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully: it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.

Mr. Wm. Kemmis, the well-known breeder of fine stock, writes as follows:—

Estancia Las Rosas,
F.C. Central Argentino,
10th Jan., 1891.

. . . I consider that no estancia which has any stock worth giving medicines to ought to be without these medicines.

The GASEOUS FLUID is the very best colic medicine I have ever seen given to horses, and the RED DRENCH for any illness after foaling or calving or lambing is, I consider, splendid.

Yours truly,

Keating's Cough Lozenges.
Keating's Cough Lozenges.
Keating's Cough Lozenges.
Keating's Cough Lozenges.

"94, Commercial Road, Peckham, July 12, 1889.

"Dear Sir,—I am a poor hand at expressing my feelings on paper, but I should like to thank you, for your lozenges have done wonders for me in relieving my terrible cough, Since I had the operation of 'Tracheotomy' (the same as the late Emperor of Germany, and unlike him, thank God, I am still alive and getting on) well-performed at St. Bartholomew's Hospital for abduct, or paralysis of the vocal chords, no one could possibly have had a more violent cough; indeed it was so bad at times that it quite exhausted me. The mucus also, which was very copious and hard has been softened, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty,—I am, sirs, yours truly,

"Mr. T. Keating," "J. HILL.

Medical Note.

The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Keating's Cough Lozenges is understated. The operation was a specially severe one, and was performed by the specialist. Dr. H. T. Butlin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Since the operation the only means of relief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords immediate benefit, although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is intense. Mr. Hill kindly allows any reference to be made to him.
